Sunday Social Dancing

Both of our Sunday afternoons this year have been successful despite changing the February date to the second instead of the third Sunday. Our apologies to Helen for not providing a report for the February newsletter. Nearly all of our last year's regulars attended with a few new faces who were made welcome.

A busload of ladies from Taranaki arrived for an arranged meal on their way home on February 8th and the bus driver (the sole male) was busy dancing with several of the ladies although we had several pairs of ladies on the floor. We have found it quite common on our Sunday Dances for people calling in to the club for meals or a couple of drinks, joining in for a couple of dances or staying to listen to the music.

Cherise will now have to look to her laurels and get a little more practice with her dancing as we have found a natural dancer among the staff. I was temporarily without a partner for the Maxina on Sunday and invited Kirriana to be my partner, with excellent results. Jonathon made several forays on to the floor, but not to dance and chickened on the Bird Dance disappearing as usual. Boy he has lots of varied excuses.

Our next Sunday Dance Afternoon is to be on the 19th April with music provided by "Saxachord".

All are welcome to come and join us. Don't be shy.
